Student placement procedures

- All new students are sent an Orientation email before they start. This email:
 - tells you that it is compulsory to attend New Student Orientation
 - gives you a link to SCIC's Student Handbook and ask you to read it before Orientation Day
 - tells you about any documentation that you should bring with you to Orientation, for example, evidence of previous English (for example, IELTS test result), passport, etc.
- Orientation is held the Friday before your Monday course start date.
- New Student Orientation lasts up to 3 hours, depending on how quickly you complete the Placement Test.
- On Orientation Day, Student Services will photocopy your documents and put copies in your student file.
- All new students must complete SCIC Placement Test to:
 - confirm that your English proficiency is suitable to the course you have chosen to study on your application form
 - choose the best entry level class for you.
- The placement test has three parts:
 - a writing section
 - a vocabulary, grammar and reading/ comprehension section
 - an oral interview with the Academic Manager or qualified teacher.
- The Academic Manager or qualified teacher will talk to you about your class level.
- Your new teacher will monitor you during the first week of study to make sure you been correctly placed.
- If your teacher determines that your class is too easy or hard for you, they will discuss this with the Academic Manager and you might be moved to a class more suitable to your proficiency entry level.
- The class teacher will continue to monitor you to make sure you are in the best class for your starting level.
- If you are unhappy with your class placement or movement to another class level, you should speak to the Academic Manager.

Special needs identification procedure

- The Academic Manager or your teacher will decide if you have a special learning need by:
 - reviewing your placement test result
 - completing an oral interview with you.
- if the Academic Manager thinks you have a special language learning need, e.g. writing skills, they will write it down on your Placement Test result sheet.
- We will tell your new teacher if you have a special need, and they will help you.

IMPORTANT: If you do not attend the Orientation Session on Friday, you cannot start your studies on the following Monday, and will lose one week's attendance. If you have a valid reason for missing Orientation, please provide us with evidence e.g. medical certificates or other supporting documents.

College Registration

CRICOS

The Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS) is a list of all Australian education providers that offer courses to people studying in Australia on student visas.

Every education provider that can offer a course to student visa holders has a special number called a CRICOS Provider Code. An education provider's CRICOS provider code should be on all their promotional and public materials so that anyone can identify the provider by searching for it on CRICOS.

SCIC's CRICOS provider Code is: 03349B

Go to the following link to find SCIC's CRICOS listing:

<https://cricos.education.gov.au/Institution/InstitutionDetails.aspx?ProviderCode=03349B>

Here you will find information about SCIC including:

- Campus locations and addresses
- Contact details
- A list of courses offered by SCIC including the CRICOS Course Code for each course
- The maximum duration of each course in weeks.

SCIC's CRICOS registration guarantees that the courses it provides meet the high standards necessary for overseas students. Please check carefully that the details of your course – including its location – match the information on CRICOS.

SCIC only provides ELICOS (English Language Intensive Courses for Overseas Students) courses to overseas students.

The ESOS Framework – Providing quality education and protecting your rights

The Australian Government wants overseas students in Australia to have a safe, enjoyable and rewarding experience. Australia's laws promote quality education and consumer protection for overseas students. These laws are known as the ESOS Framework, and they include:

- the Education Services for Overseas (ESOS) Act 2000 (ESOS Act 2000)
- the National Code of Practice for Providers of Education and Training to Overseas Students 2018 (National Code 2018)
- the ELICOS Standards 2018.

ESOS Act 2000

The ESOS Act is the law that protects you as an overseas student when you are studying in Australia on a student visa. This law also helps to make sure that Australia has a good reputation as an education destination for students from other countries.

National Code 2018

The National Code is a set of standards that every education provider must follow to make sure that they are providing quality education courses to their overseas students. SCIC and every other education provider for overseas students must follow these standards. There are 11 Standards that SCIC must follow:

Standard 1 - Marketing information and practices

Standard 2 - Recruitment of an overseas student

Standard 3 - Formalisation of enrolment and written agreements

Standard 4 - Education agents

Standard 5 - Younger overseas students

Standard 6 - Overseas student support services

Standard 7 - Overseas student transfers

Standard 8 - Overseas student visa requirements

Standard 9 - Deferring, suspending or cancelling the overseas student's enrolment

Standard 10 - Complaints and appeals

Standard 11 - Additional registration requirements

You can download the National Code at: <https://www.legislation.gov.au/F2017L01182/latest/text>

ELICOS Standards 2018

ELICOS means English Language Intensive Courses for Overseas Students.

ASQA

The Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) is an Australian Government agency. ASQA is the national regulator for ELICOS Colleges. ASQA approves colleges who want to become ELICOS providers. ASQA can visit an ELICOS College to check that it is following all the requirements of the ELICOS Standards 2018 and the National Code 2018.

Protecting Students – The Tuition Protection Service (TPS)

Australia has an excellent reputation for quality education. However, sometimes an education provider may close down, fail to start a course that students are enrolled in or stop offering it part-way through. Closing, failing to start, or stopping a course part way through is called a default.

If an education provider defaults, the Tuition Protection Service (TPS) may be able to help you.

Your education provider must help you, even if it is closing. Your provider must:

- arrange for you to finish your study with another provider, or
- give you a refund of unspent tuition fees you paid directly to your provider.
- If you are not satisfied with the replacement courses your provider has identified, you can ask to receive the refund instead.

If you have applied for a refund and you are not satisfied with the outcome, you can begin an internal complaints process with your provider. If you are unhappy with the outcome of the internal complaints process, you can contact the Overseas Students Ombudsman.

If your provider does not find you a suitable course or offer you a refund, the TPS will help you.

For more information about the Tuition Protection Service go to: <https://www.education.gov.au/tps>

You can also provide information on the TPS website at <https://www.education.gov.au/tps>

NEAS

NEAS is an organisation that ELICOS colleges can join to show that they deliver quality English language courses. SCIC meets the NEAS Quality Assurance Framework. This means that SCIC's English courses are high quality.

You can find more information about the NEAS Quality Assurance Framework at:

Academic Integrity & Academic Misconduct

SCIC defines Academic Integrity as:

the expectation that teachers, students, researchers and all members of the academic community act with: honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility.'

Plagiarism or cheating are examples of academic misconduct.

Plagiarism is when you copy some or all of someone else's work and pass it off as your work. It is also called 'cheating'.

You must provide original work. You must not copy the work of others.

Plagiarism or cheating can be:

- Copying: using someone else's words from a book, website or other electronic source as your own. This includes the use of Generative Artificial Intelligence tools, for example, ChatGPT.
- Collusion: Working with other students to finish an assignment, like getting help from a friend to write an essay and turning it in as your own.
- Cheating: Activities such as copying from other students, use a mobile phone or other communication device or the unauthorised use of Generative Artificial Intelligence tools, for example, ChatGPT to find information during an examination or bringing notes into an exam.
- Using any form of Generative AI to create assessment answers.
- Not complying with assessment instructions provided in writing or by a teacher, for example, refusal to turn off IT devices during assessment time.
- Contract cheating: This is when you pay someone to write part or all of your assignment and submit it as if it was your own work.

Providing academic cheating services to students at Australian institutions is against the law. Do not write essays, complete assignments or sit exams for other students. You risk criminal prosecution including 2 years in prison and up to $110,000 in fines.

- SCIC does not tolerate academic misconduct under any circumstances and will investigate any instances of suspected academic misconduct for all assessments.

If you breach this Student Code of Conduct, it may result in expulsion from the College.

SCIC has students from many different countries. You will get much more English practice if you make friends with students from other countries who are also learning English in Australia, so make the most of this opportunity at SCIC.

Payment Plan Option

SCIC can give you the option of a payment plan to pay for their tuition fees. If you wish to use this option, you must honour all payments agreed between you and SCIC.

To get a CoE for visa purposes, students must pay the first instalment of their tuition fee as outlined in their Letter of Offer in addition to any other fees listed on their invoice. These payments can be made by deducting weekly, fortnightly or monthly payments directly from the student's nominated credit card.

SCIC and its representatives and staff will not be held liable for any loss, damages, death, illness or injuries to people or property whilst students are on any activity or excursion organised by SCIC.

It is your sole responsibility to take out insurance against all such risks, and we recommend that students travelling to Australia take out comprehensive travel, accident, and medical insurance in their own countries.

Clothing

Please dress respectfully and do not wear any rude words or pictures on your clothing as other people may get offended.

Students are expected to be dressed in an appropriate manner (no bikini tops or similar apparel or clothing with offensive language written on it). Shoes (footwear) must be worn in the College at all times.

First Aid

Any personal injury sustained at SCIC must be reported immediately to your teacher and/or Student Services. A basic first aid kit is available at Student Services for emergencies. SCIC cannot supply students with medicines or headache medication. This is the student's responsibility. There is a Coles Supermarket inside World Square within 5 mins walk from the College and they stock basic across the counter medication.

For other medicines, you will need to go to a chemist or pharmacy. The closest pharmacy to the SCIC Campus located within two minutes' walk is Chemist Warehouse, Hyde Park, 299 Elizabeth Street.

Mobile Phones

ALL mobile phones should be turned off while you are in class at SCIC. It is very rude to other students and your teacher to take calls in class. If you need to be contacted urgently while you are attending class, you can inform potential callers, prior to class, to leave a message with Student Services.

Transfer Between Providers

- Colleges like SCIC are sometimes called an 'education provider' for overseas students.
- You might be able to move (transfer) from SCIC to another education provider, but there are some rules you must follow:
 - Usually, you cannot transfer to another college until you have completed six months of your course, except in certain circumstances.
 - If you are enrolled in two courses at SCIC, e.g. General English followed by EAP, then your second course is called your 'principal' course. Usually, you cannot transfer to another college until you have completed six months of your principal course, except in certain circumstances.
- When can you transfer to another provider in the first six months of study?
 - SCIC can approve your transfer to another provider if:
 - We stop running the English course in which you are enrolled
 - If you have compassionate or compelling reasons for your transfer request
 - If SCIC thinks your transfer is in your best interest.
- SCIC will not approve your transfer for a number of reasons including:

Compassionate or Compelling Circumstances

In some cases when you want to change your enrolment, SCIC can use compassionate or compelling circumstances to decide if they can approve your request. Enrolment chances include:

- A request to transfer to another provider (National Code 2017, Standard 7)
- SCIC has determined that the students had not demonstrated satisfactory attendance or course progress and intends to report the student for breach of their student visa conditions (National Code 2017, Standard 8)
- A request to defer or suspend studies (National Code 2017, Standard 9).

SCIC follows guidance about compassionate or compelling circumstances from the two government sources below:

- The Commonwealth Ombudsman's fact sheet, Assessing Compassionate or Compelling Circumstances, June 2023 available at:
https://www.ombudsman.gov.au/_data/assets/pdf_file/0030/298911/OSO-providers_Assessing-Compassionate-or-Compelling-Circumstances-A2297580.pdf
- The Commonwealth Department of Education's factsheets, Standard 7 to 9 available at:
<https://www.education.gov.au/esos-framework/national-code-practice-providers-education-and-training-overseas-students-2018>

What is meant by 'compassionate' or 'compelling'?

These are the definitions:

Compassionate circumstances: circumstances that produce a feeling of sympathy for the student's troubles.

Compelling circumstances: circumstances that are powerfully convincing.

SCIC also considers compassionate or compelling circumstances are those beyond your control and which have an impact upon your course attendance, course progress or wellbeing. These could include, but are not limited to:

- Serious illness or injury
- Bereavement of close family members such as parents or grandparents (where possible a death certificate should be provided).
- Major political upheaval or natural disaster in the home country requiring emergency travel and this has impacted on the overseas student's studies; or
- A traumatic experience, which could include:
 - Involvement in, or witnessing of a serious accident; or
 - Witnessing or being the victim of a serious crime, and this has impacted on the overseas student (these cases should be supported by police or psychologists' reports)
- When determining if compassionate or compelling circumstances exists, SCIC only requires the circumstances to be assessed as either compassionate or compelling.
- SCIC does not require you to demonstrate their circumstances are both compassionate and compelling while also taking into consideration that some circumstances may naturally meet both definitions.

Supporting documentation

- SCIC always needs to be in a position to substantiate a decision to accept your claim of compassionate or compelling circumstances. This means that SCIC needs to be able to provide evidence to support and justify the decision that it has made.
- SCIC follows the guidance of the Federal Department of Education (National Code Factsheets for Standards 7-9) with regard to the need for you to present documentary evidence to support your claim of compassionate or compelling circumstances which states:
 - When determining whether compassionate or compelling circumstances exist, registered providers should consider documentary evidence provided to support the claim, and
 - should keep copies of these documents in the overseas student's file.

- SCIC will always request supporting documentation from you if you wish to make a claim of compassionate or compelling circumstances.
- Generally, SCIC will not determine that compassionate or compelling circumstances exist based solely on written statements presented by you (usually on the Student Appeal Form when citing compassionate or compelling circumstances as the reason for contesting a decision named by SCIC).

The nature of supporting evidence

- SCIC will always request you to submit a claim of compassionate or compelling circumstances in writing. Generally, this written claim will be part of SCIC's Appeals processes and will use the Student Appeal Form to record in writing details of your claim to compassionate or compelling circumstances.
- SCIC will also accept other mechanisms to submit a claim of compassionate or compelling circumstances, for example, via email.
- SCIC will always request supporting evidence from a student to support their claim of compassionate or compelling circumstances.
- SCIC will not impose overly onerous requirements for the amount or type of evidence you must provide to support your claim, however, the evidence presented must clearly support the written compassionate or compelling claim made by you.

Medical certificates

- Medical certificates are often presented by students who wish to make a compassionate or compelling circumstances claim.
- SCIC does not expect you to present medical evidence from specialists; SCIC is satisfied by medical evidence issued by General Practitioners.
- SCIC will always accept a medical practitioner's professional opinion provided in written medical evidence.
- SCIC reserves the right to verify a medical certificate presented by you: This usually takes the form of making contact with the medical practitioner's practice/ location in writing.
- Medical evidence does not need to specify a specific medical condition; however, it must meet the following requirements:
 - To address unsatisfactory course progress: It must state that the medical condition negatively affects your ability to meet academic progress requirements.
 - To address unsatisfactory attendance: It must specify the time period (for example, from date to date) for which you were unable/ unfit to attend your studies.

Your Work Rights in Australia

As an international student, your student visa allows you to work up to 48 hours per fortnight (two weeks) during term time. You can work full-time during your holidays.

You have the same workplace rights and protections as anyone else working in Australia.

- You must be paid at least the minimum wage. From 01.July 2024, the minimum wage is $24.10 per hour
- You must pay tax on your income
- You must get a pay slip

You cannot be a full-time worker because you cannot work 38 hours per week. International students are usually casual workers. Casual work means you don't have a fixed number of hours every week.

If you are having workplace problems, there is a government organisation you can contact without fear of your visa being cancelled. This could be for issues such as not getting the right pay or other entitlements, like leave or notice. The organisation is called the Fair Work Ombudsman. For more information, go to the following link: The Fair Work Ombudsman and International Students

Transport

An efficient network of transport options makes travelling to attractions in Sydney and regional NSW affordable and enjoyable. Opal Card, Sydney's integrated ticketing system, provides students with the flexibility to travel on train, bus, metro and ferry services using just the one card. Opal cards can be bought at NSW Railway stations and selected ticketing agents and provide fares cheaper than buying paper tickets at transit stations.

For more information about the Opal card and the various transport networks, visit the Transport NSW website <https://transportnsw.info/>. You can also download the NSW Opal app for up-to-date service information.

City Train

Sydney's network of trains covers the broadest reaches of Greater Sydney and provides direct access to the city and outer suburbs. There are also special post-midnight services on Friday and Saturday nights for late-night adventurers.

There is also the XPT in NSW, which was introduced to service in 1982, the XPT, short for "express passenger train", has an aerodynamic design and travels between Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane, Dubbo, Grafton and Casino. You can book a seat on NSW TrainLink Regional services.

City Bus

Sydney's bus services run throughout the city connecting the outer and inner suburbs to the CBD, major shopping centres, railway stations and ferry terminals. A number of bus routes operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Night Ride buses replace most train services between midnight and 4.30am, stopping at railway stations or on main roads near railway stations. Some regular bus routes run later services after midnight on weekends only.

You can buy Opal single bus tickets from the driver, except on Opal only or Pre-pay buses. You can buy Opal single trip tickets from top up and single trip ticket machines at selected metro and train stations, wharves and light rail stops.

Sydney Ferries

Sydney Ferries is the public transport ferry network serving the city of Sydney, New South Wales. Services operate on Sydney Harbour and the connecting Parramatta River. You can pay for your ferry trip in Sydney using your Opal card on Sydney Ferries where you can take advantage of all the Opal benefits.

Accommodation Options

When studying in Sydney, you can choose from a range of accommodation options to suit your lifestyle and budget. You can stay with a local Australian family (Homestay), live in student accommodation, share an apartment with friends or live alone.

Homestay

Homestay accommodation allows you to live with an Australian host family – giving you an authentic Australian experience. You'll pay a fee that covers accommodation, breakfast, and dinner. Internet access is also often included.

SCIC works with its Homestay provider to set you up with homestay accommodation for your arrival in Australia – including providing airport pick-up and drop-off to your host family.

SCIC's homestay provider is Study Vision.

All requests and applications for Homestay accommodation through SCIC are forwarded directly to info@studyvision.com.au. Study Vision offers easy and complete homestay packages. Their rate allows you to find a homestay that best suits you and this information can be found on their website, <https://www.studyvision.com.au/>

Share & Rental Accommodation

There are a number of unit complexes or houses specifically for students in Sydney. In most cases, students will rent the entire house or flat, but there are also opportunities to rent a single bedroom, and share lounge room, kitchen, bathroom and laundry facilities with other students who have been selected by the management.

Most rental properties will require you to pay a bond upfront that will be returned at the end of your agreement if no damage has occurred. This will cover any money owing at the end of the tenancy for any damage to the property. The bond is used as security and is usually equivalent to the amount of four weeks' rent. Your landlord can also ask for one month's rent in advance for a fixed term agreement and two weeks for a periodic rental. You need to determine exactly who is responsible for utilities like water, gas, and electricity.

Rental costs vary depending on the accommodation style, type and suburb. You can find average rental costs by searching for "median rents" on the Residential Tenancies Act (RTA) website <https://www.tenants.org.au>. The RTA governs rental contracts in Sydney and can help you with any questions or information about joining or starting a lease.

There are a few places on-line where you can find independent or share-rooms to rent in Sydney.

These are:

- Flatmates - flatmatesfinders.com.au
- Gumtree - www.gumtree.com.au
- Realestate.com.au - www.realestate.com.au
- Domain - www.domain.com.au
- Y Suites - www.sydney.ysuites.co

Before you take a lease out on a property you need to:

- Ensure you have enough money to cover the Bond
- Arrange a reference or Guarantor
- Inspect the property before you sign a contract and/or pay a deposit.
- Photograph any existing damage or issues.
- Carefully read your rental agreement before signing it (get help if you are not sure what something means).

- Make sure you receive (and keep) a copy of your rental agreement.
- Establish who is responsible for paying the utilities.
- Take careful notice of the details regarding the end of your rental agreement.

Banking

Opening an Australian bank account will allow you to earn money in Australia. Any payment you receive from employment or a scholarship will need to be paid directly into an Australian account. You can also easily access funds without attracting fees for international transfers. When opening an account, you will be provided with a debit card, allowing you to shop across Australia and online without paying additional fees. As an international student, you need to make sure you have enough money to pay for study, books and living expenses. You also need to make sure your money is secure and that you can access it anytime. You can use a basic day to day account to pay for course fees, rent or daily living costs.

To set up a bank account you just need to go to any bank once in Australia and let them know you're an international student and would like to open an account. To do this, you will need to provide:

- photographic identification (passport)
- proof of your Australian address (a household bill can be used)
- proof of enrolment at your education provider.

You will be provided with access to a day-to-day account and an online savings account. Once you have been identified, you will receive a debit card.

Note: Although it is not necessary for you to have a Tax File Number to get a bank account, it is advisable to set one up and take this with you as without one you will get taxed a lot on your account.

Phone And Internet Services

Australia has several different options available for phone and internet services. Some information about accessing these services are below.

To make calls within Australia, dial:

Area code (for State or Territory only) + telephone number.

State & Territory Codes in Australia:

- 02 NSW – New South Wales; ACT – Australian Capital Territory

Mobile Phone Services

It is highly recommended that you purchase an Australian SIM card when you arrive in Australia rather than using your mobile number from your home country as this can end up being very expensive. In Australia, it is possible to have a prepaid mobile phone account or a contract mobile phone service.

Prepaid Mobile Phone

A prepaid mobile phone service gives you flexibility because you control how much you spend and can stop using the service any time. Pre-paid SIM cards are sold in many shops and supermarkets, as well as by mobile phone providers. After an easy set-up process with the provider, you will have a working Australian mobile number which you can top up with credit as needed. You can usually top up your prepaid service online or at a range of retail outlets. Your mobile phone provider can provide details on how you can top up your service.

Contract Mobile Phone

If you will be using your mobile a lot and will be in Australia for a longer period (12+ months), a fixed term contract might work out to be the cheaper option for you. There are many mobile phone operators in Australia, and you can choose from a range of phone plans where you can get the handset with little (if any) up-front cost; you then pay a fixed price per month for a certain amount of calls, text messages and data.

If you need any assistance with setting up a phone service, our Student Services officer can help you to get the best option for your personal circumstances.

Internet Services

Many of the phone service providers in Australia also provide fixed or mobile internet services. These are also offered as pre-paid, or contract plans like the mobile phones above and these operate in the same manner. If you choose to get a contract service for your home internet, you will receive a modem, and just like a phone service, you pay a monthly rate to get a certain data allowance. Ask the providers you are considering for details of plans that might suit you and you need assistance in understanding the information they provide you, our Student Support officer will be happy to assist you.

SCIC provides free Wi-Fi for all students whilst on campus. See Student Services for the login details.

What to do in an emergency

On your first day at SCIC, you will be shown where to find the fire stairs. You will walk down the stairs to the street exit on Castlereagh Street and make your way to the SCIC Emergency Meeting Point.

- Follow your teacher's instructions
- Leave the building via the fire stairs. Do not take the lift.
- Meet with your teacher at the SCIC Emergency Meeting Point
- Make sure your teacher marks your name on the roll
- Wait for further instructions from your teacher

If you ever have an emergency and need help from FIRE, POLICE or AMBULANCE SERVICES

Dial (free) 000

from ANY public telephone or mobile telephone.

If first aid is required at school, you must report it to your teacher or Student Services.

Other phone numbers which may be of assistance during an emergency are:

Medical Assistance

Sydney has some of the highest-quality health services available in Australia. Australia's health care system includes high-quality hospitals, doctors, pharmacies, dental clinics, physiotherapists, and many other support services.

Overseas Student Health Cover

The Australian Government requires all international students to purchase medical insurance for the full period of their student visa. This cover must be through an approved Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) provider.

Depending on the level of cover, most OSHC insurers will cover basic medical costs and contribute towards the costs of most prescription medicines and an ambulance in cases of emergency.

OSHC does not cover secondary medical services such as dental, optical, physiotherapy, or non-essential prescription medicines. Additional private health insurance will need to be bought if these services are required.

Some OSHC health insurance providers in Sydney include:

- Medibank Private: www.medibank.com.au
- Allianz Global Assistance:
www.oshcallianzassistance.com.au
- BUPA OSHC: www.overseasstudenthealth.com
- Australian Health Management: www.ahm.com.au
- NIB: www.nib.com.au

Getting Medical Help

If you need medical help in Sydney, make an appointment to see a doctor, also known as a general practitioner (GP), at your local medical centre. You should go to a doctor's surgery that can send the bill directly to your OSHC insurance provider. This is called "bulk billing" and means you will only have to pay the difference between what is owed to the doctor and what your insurance will cover.

GPs can help with minor illnesses and offer general medical advice. In cases of medical emergency, you should immediately go to the emergency department of your nearest hospital, where medical staff can provide you with urgent attention.

It is important that you contact your OSHC insurer before being admitted to a private hospital. While private hospitals will still provide you with medical attention, be aware that not all their services will be covered by OSHC and you may have to pay extra for these services.

Local medical centres which are close to SCIC Campus include:

Centre name and address	Opening Hours
Hyde Park Medical Centre Ground Floor 1/175 Liverpool St, Sydney NSW 2000 Phone: (02) 9283 1234	Monday to Friday: 8am – 7pm Saturday: 10am – 2pm Sunday: 10am – 2pm

Attending an Australian Hospital

Not all private hospitals have emergency departments, so, in an emergency, most Australians rely on the public hospital system. If you attend an Emergency Department in a hospital you will be attended to immediately by a triage nurse for information about you, your cover, and your current health condition. The triage nurse will determine the urgency of your condition in comparison to others that have come into the emergency room and it is likely that you will remain at the emergency room for several hours. Whether you are seen immediately by a doctor, or you need to wait to see the doctor, it is customary to keep you in the emergency room for several hours to monitor your condition before releasing you to go home or admitting you to hospital in more severe cases.

There are extensive waiting times for elective surgeries at public hospitals, e.g. for orthopaedic surgery. One of the attractions of health insurance is the ability to bypass public hospital waiting lists and go through the private system. Private hospitals are very expensive for treatment and hospitalisation. Your OSHC will cover some of the cost of some private hospitals, but you must pay the difference (this is called an excess payment).

Your health insurance (OSHC) covers the total cost of accommodation in a shared ward of a public hospital. It also pays for the 'schedule fee' for the doctor but if the doctor's fee is higher than the 'schedule fee' you will be required to pay the difference.

The closest hospital to SCIC Sydney is Saint Vincent's Hospital located at 90 Victoria St, Darlinghurst NSW 2010.

Mental Health

Some people may find adjusting to a new life in a different country and city stressful. If you find yourself having financial or accommodation problems, give yourself a break and don't let your new life overwhelm you. Making friends will give you a support network, as will finding a part-time job.

Look for special interest groups you can relate to and force yourself to give your mind a break from rigorous study.

If you feel unhappy for any reason - be it academic, personal or social reasons - we can provide confidential one-on-one counselling to help you. If we're unable to solve the challenge you face, SCIC can arrange further professional assistance from experienced counsellors and psychologists to help get you back on track.

Health and Fitness

For those looking to maintain an active lifestyle, there are many gyms you can join in and around the city, and Sydney has a wide range of free or low-cost activities catering to different age groups and interests.

There are also several different sporting facilities including skate parks, tennis courts and bike paths – so there is always something available to keep your exercise routine interesting.

For those that enjoy working out in a gym, SCIC has a number of gyms near our Sydney Campus.

Smoking

In Australia, smoking is prohibited for people under the age of 18. In NSW, smoking is prohibited within 5 metres of all non-residential building entrances.

All areas of the SCIC Campus are designated as non-smoking buildings - therefore there is no smoking anywhere inside the College or the building. This includes the toilets, stairs or lift, and lobby areas. Under no circumstances are you permitted to smoke on the front stairs or near (within 4 metres) of the entrances to the building.

General Safety

Australia is considered to be one of the safest countries in the world. However, like in all countries and major cities, risks should not be taken.

As a general principle, you should always avoid dark areas at night time, do not attract unwanted attention to yourself with loud behaviour, dress etc. and take care of your valuables and belongings at all times. If you don't know the area well or if you must travel at night, you should travel with a friend. Do not hitchhike or ride in a car with someone you do not know, even if they seem friendly or helpful.

If you do not feel safe at any stage call the Emergency number 000 and ask for Police.

Sun Safety

Australia has one of the highest rates of skin cancer in the world. Fortunately, being Sun Smart is a simple and effective way to reduce your risk of developing skin cancer.

Cancer Council Australia provides guidance on how much sun you need and how to protect yourself from getting too much sun exposure on their sun protection website.

For best protection, the cancer council recommends a combination of sun protection measures including:

- Slip on some sun-protective clothing that covers as much skin as possible.
- Slop on broad spectrum, water resistant SPF30+ (or higher) sunscreen. Put it on 20 minutes before you go outdoors and every two hours afterwards. Sunscreen should never be used to extend the time you spend in the sun.
- Slap on a hat – broad brim or legionnaire style to protect your face, head, neck, and ears.
- Seek shade.
- Slide on some sunglasses – make sure they meet Australian Standards.

Beach Safety

A day at the beach is a fabulous way to enjoy Sydney-NSW. If you're planning a day out by the water, here's your guide to staying safe and having a great day:

- NEVER swim at an unpatrolled beach. Pick somewhere to swim that has trained lifeguards to assist you if you get into trouble.
- ALWAYS swim between the red and yellow flags when you go to the beach. This is the area that has been determined as the safest for swimming. NEVER swim outside the flags. This is the area that is patrolled and watched by trained lifeguards.
- Check for any signs and ALWAYS follow their instructions;
- DO NOT dive into water as you may misjudge the depth; this may cause serious injuries;
- ALWAYS walk into the water slowly and be aware of any submerged objects which can cause injuries;
- NEVER swim alone, or at night, when no-one can see you;
- NEVER swim under the influence of alcohol;
- If you find yourself in trouble in the ocean, raise your hand/arm up to signal for help and stay calm. Float with a current or rip – do not try and swim against it.

The ocean can be a dangerous place and so understanding the ocean is very important - the more you know about how waves, wind and tides affect conditions in the water, the better able you are to keep yourself safe from danger. More information about Surf safety can be found on the Surf Life Saving Beach Safety website at the following link:
