AN EXPLANATION OF COURSES, SATISFACTORY ATTENDANCE and COURSE PROGRESS

Students can begin any course except EAP and Cambridge Advanced on any Monday throughout the academic year. Students are tested upon commencement at SCIC and placed in the appropriate level. SCIC courses and course levels are all 12 weeks in duration. Student can move to a higher course level if they meet course requirements:

- They have completed 12 weeks of a course/ course level
- They demonstrate satisfactory course progress
- They demonstrate minimum attendance requires of no less than 80% attendance.

SATISFACTORY COURSE PROGRESS

A condition of a student visa is maintaining satisfactory course progress. Students demonstrate they are making satisfactory course progress by their performance in regular tests. All tests, in all courses, are based on material taught in class in that particular week. The EAP and HSP courses also include assignments as a part of the student's assessment.

SCIC deems a student's attendance to be unsatisfactory if they do not pass the required number of assessments as determined by each course's progress requirements.

If a student demonstrates unsatisfactory course progress, SCIC will notify students of its intention to report them to DHA for breach of student visa conditions. Students have the option to appeal SCIC's decision to report for unsatisfactory course progress.

SATISFACTORY ATTENDANCE

A condition of a student visa is having satisfactory course attendance. SCIC will record a student's attendance for all contact hours of each course in which they are enrolled. Each Confirmation of Enrolment a student is issued represents one course. SCIC deems a student's attendance to be unsatisfactory if they do not attend 80% of their total course class hours.

Students have demonstrated unsatisfactory course progress if attendance falls below 80%.

SCIC will notify students of its intention to report them to DHA for breach of student visa conditions. Students have the option to appeal SCIC's decision to report for unsatisfactory attendance.

STUDENT TRANSFER

Transfer to another provider

A student is permitted to transfer to another provider if limited circumstances. Generally a student cannot transfer to another education provider until the student has completed six months of their course and SCIC has approved their application for transfer.

COMPLAINTS AND APPEALS

SCIC has a process in place for students to register complaints and to appeal decisions made that can affect their student visa.

If a student is advised that SCIC intends to report them to the Australian Government for misconduct, breach of student visa conditions or non-payment of fees, they can access SCIC's internal appeals process to review this decision.

If the decision made by SCIC is upheld, the student may choose to access an external appeals process by contacting the Commonwealth Ombudsman. Only after the Ombudsman upholds the decision will SCIC notify the Australian government and a Section 20 breach notice will be sent to the student and/or their legal guardian via email.

NOTE: If a student is under 18 years of age, that student's legal guardian and/or parents will be invited to participate in all discussions with students about course progress/attendance; the deferral, suspension or cancellation of that student's course; or a complaint/appeal by that student.
